DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, 16, and 18-21, drawn to a sheet folding apparatus, classified in class 493, subclass 433.
- II. Claims 12-15, 17, and 22-25, drawn to a sheet folding apparatus with folding unit operating in either of folding modes, classified in class 493, subclass 430.
- III. Claims 26, 28, and 30, drawn to a sheet processing apparatus, classified in class 493, subclass 442.
- IV. Claims 27 and 29, drawn to a sheet processing apparatus with folding unit to operate in either of folding modes and applies a predetermined postprocess on the sheet, classified in class 493, subclass 427.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Groups (I-III) and Group IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require to have a folding mode selecting device that can selectively cause the sheet folding unit to operate in either of folding modes and which applies a predetermined postprocess on the sheet that has been subjected to the image forming process by the image forming apparatus. The subcombination has separate utility such as have a folding mode selecting device that can selectively cause the sheet folding unit to operate in either of folding modes and which applies a predetermined postprocess on the sheet that has been subjected to the image forming process by the image forming apparatus.

Inventions Groups I and II and Group III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require to have a folding mode selecting device that can selectively cause the sheet folding unit to operate in a letter folding mode and which applies a predetermined post process on the sheet that has been subjected to the image forming process by the image forming apparatus. The subcombination has separate utility such as a folding mode selecting device that can selectively cause the sheet folding unit to operate in a letter folding mode and which applies a predetermined post process on the sheet that has been subjected to the image forming process by the image forming apparatus.

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require to have a folding mode selecting device which can selectively cause the sheet folding unit to operate in either of folding modes. The subcombination has separate utility such as a folding mode selecting device which can selectively cause the sheet folding unit to operate in either of folding modes.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Mr. Robert Goodel on 02/01/2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Sameh H. Tawfik whose telephone number is (703) 308-2809. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday - Friday from 8:00 AM to 6:00 PM.
